- All is ok
- None
- The cooperation between the schools was very good. The activities were well planned, selected and carried out. I miss working live - working with partner schools at our school.
- In the times of Covid-19 I believe it is indeed great for all the participants to find ways of communicating and launching out the activities via online platforms and video conferences as has become common practice in these unpredictable times.
- Sharing good practices in the classroom.
- It would be great if we could include more examples of activity suitable for daily use on our platform to share.
- Teacher exchange. Practical presentation of lessons.
- This virtual meeting was a good choice in these strange times. We all learned that we can learn a lot from each other also online.
- I have no suggestions to make. The activities allowed collaboration and participation by all schools.
- To continue sharing examples of activities and planning lessons in common.
- I suggest that we organise more events like this one to know each other better!
- Well done!
- It is very important to have the skills to develop students 'learning and teachers' skills.
- This was a vital experience as educators and teachers share their experiences and work together as a team.
- Every effective team needs to understand what the common goals are, how these goals are measured and what the team should focus on. Set realistic expectations.
- I have no suggestions, everything was good.
- Further communication with the teachers in the project
- Realize other teaching and learning experiences to share
- It was a pity that we were unable to participate in synchronous sessions

- Nothing to say
- It was a pity that we couldn't participate in this mobility with the students, I would have liked it very much. When we get back to school, we will apply.
- Okay so
- Colleagues did a fantastic job
- Good work
- Good presentation and planning of activities. Presentation of resources that can be used in various classes and levels of education
- More interaction between participants
- More communication between the teachers involved in the project.
- More communication between teachers involved in the project.
- More communication between the schools.
- I would suggest that from time to time we keep contact with respective schools. However, everything was well planned.
- I liked the activity. Good job 😊
- More opportunities to share experiences.
- If possible, we will have more days/time to share more experiences
- I feel that under the present circumstances all the activities were well organised and the collaboration between the schools was excellent.
- Improve teaching skills, share knowledge, learn from others' experiences
- The collaboration was fine.

- Students were very excited, and they said that they would like to be part of similar activities in present.
- The activities were well planned and prepared allowing partners from other schools to replicate them in their schools and also allowed for immediate interaction between students from different schools / countries.
- You have done a very good work!! Nice team, great example! Congrats!
- I really enjoyed it and I would definitely participate in another one again!
- In Portugal we are in the Pandemic space/time. Children are getting online lessons at home. Some resources and videos will be better explored when we go back to school. It was great the Slovenia mobility, they learned and taught a lot! Congratulations!
- The presentations were great. Students can easily develop and learn and apply activities.
- The session that my students attended was very interesting and hands-on and I believe that that's how the sessions should be carried out. Thank you.
- There were many ways to make collaborative work effective. Slovenian students and teachers presented very good ideas valuable strategies, especially for students just learning about collaboration. The results of the activities were also very well done and presented by partners schools.
- Although very well prepared and interesting - such activities cannot replace the experience one gets, when participants meet live and really experience the place, where activities take place. I hope we can do this again soon.
- Well done to all!
- I think that the exchange of teaching experiences is really essential for all the teachers.
- It would be interesting to schedule some videoconferences with classes from other schools to apply this content.

- It was an excellent virtual activity.
- Kids really enjoyed it
- It was very organized and looking forward to have more opportunities to get more experiences from other teachers
- Unfortunately due to the pandemic we could only see and do recorded activities. It would have been nice if the local and the foreign students could have some of the activities done live. But surely I agree that this year this was not possible. This was my first experience in such an event and I was really happy to be a part of this team. Thank you.
- I think, through robotics students with different needs and abilities can benefit from it since visual, auditory and kinaesthetic learning is more involved.
- Keep up the good work done!
